

I strongly oppose changes in FCC rules that will facilitate the merging of media components to create a few giant companies that will control the industry and make it virtually impossible for smaller entrepreneurs to compete and express diversity of opinion - a danger to freedom of expression.